Hodcarriers Say They Were Locked Out by Sub-Contractors for Stewart & Co.

The hod carriers employed by Abrams & Sullivan on the new Commercial Club building and several other jobs, who quit work Friday morning because of grievances with the sub-contractors for James Stewart & Co., deny they are on a strike but claim it is simply a case of lock-

Charles Michler, chairman, and G. R. Anderson, secretary, of the Hod Carriers' union, claim that on January 1, last, agreements were signed by all of the sub-contractors employing plasterers, hod carriers, etc., in effect as follows: "The scale of wages will be for all plaster labor $4.50 per day for eight hours, and any hod carrier who shall work over-time shall be paid time and one-half, and on Sunday double time."

This agreement was to have become effective April 15. On Friday members of the Hod Carriers' union went to Mr. Abrams and were informed by him that he stood willing to meet their grievenness.

In the case of the Commercial Club job it is claimed that Abrams & Sullivan have used unfair labor, and that the en-tire contract, therefore, is unfair. A num-ber of unskilled workmen took the places of the regular union men yesterday, but it is believed satisfactory adjustment of the difficulties will be made the first of the week and the men return to their Affects Other Clubs.

The ruling affects the clubs which own their own property, and a number of other clubs will come under this head. The contention of the county was that the Elks' club conducted a bar and restaurant, and that it was not used exclusively for charitable purposes. The club is much the same as the Alta and University clubs, which have paid the taxes for years.

County Attorney Job P. Lyon said last night that the ruling of Judge Ritchie would probably affect several other clubs in Salt Lake, though he had not investigated this matter to see how many came within the ruling. It will not affect the Masonic lodge, however, as this is used exclusively for lodge members, and there are not the commercial features of the other clubs. It is stated that the Odd Fellows will probably have to pay for that part of their building on Postoffice place which is rented to other parties, under the ruling of Judge Ritchie. DENY BEING ON STRIKE TRAVELERS WILL MEET IN LOGAN THIS YEAR

Commercial Men Are Promised Royal Welcome by Representative of That City.

Logan will probably capture the 1910 convention of United Commercial Travelers, which will be held in June. At a meeting of the Salt Lake lodge last night, Joseph H. Marshall of Logan called the attention of the travelers to the fact that the capital of Cache county was bidding for the convention, and e was given to understand that Logan would probably be the meeting place. The selection of a convention city has been left to a committee which will anounce its decision within a week, in order that the U. C. T. may advertise the convention, and that the city where it is to be held may have time to make adequate pregarations. Mr. Marshall, while not acting in an official capacity for Logan, assured the travelers that his city would go to great expense to entertain the delegates to the annual convention. That Logan is amply large nough to handle the crowd, he was certain, and everything that could be done for the comfort and convenience of the visitors would be done.

The convention committee will get busy at once, and it is likely that Logan will send a delegation from the Boosters' club to confer with the traveling men who have the last word in the selection of an annual meeting place. It is expected that this year will gather the greatest crowd that ever attended a convention of the United Commercial Travelers. The convention will be held early in June, the dates and

DIES IN CONVULSIONS.

Lad Seized With Fatal Attack of Scarlet Fever.

Playing his harmonica until a few minutes before he was seized with convulsions, Albert Mondine, aged 15 years, an inmate of the Uintah Training school, died at 10 o'clock yesterday morning of complications following an attac!: of scarlet fever. When the boy awoke yesterday he felt much better that he asked to be allowed to dress, but the nurse in charge denied him this privilege. He then called for his harmonica and played several tunes, suddenly going off into a convulsion. This was followed soon after by another attack, which resulted in death.

Young Mondine was committed to the training school by Judge Alexander Mc-Master of the juvenile court for incorrigibility about four months ago. He was a model lad and well advanced in his studies. His mother, Mrs. J. E. Feeley, lives at 753 East Third South street. About a year ago her husband deserted her, and as she was forced to earn her own living, she was unable to give the boy the proper bringing up and training, and consented to his being cared for at the Uinta's school. to a school.

Young Man Writes That He Spent His Money and Was Then Kicked Out.

John H. Tomilson of Denver, who is ooking for his son, Frank S. Tomilson, aged 18 years, called at police headquarters yesterday afternoon and asked if a young man of his name and description had of recent date attracted the attention of the police. Tomilson says that his son left home four months ago, and equipped with $300 had gone to Glenwood Springs, Colo., with the intention of filing on government land. Under date of March 24 Frank S Fomilson wrote his father a letter in which it seems that ranchmen in the neighborhood of Glenwood Springs had discouraged his ambitions of becoming a ranch and stockman. He became despondent, and says that a number of hangers-on at the Silver Crub saloon in Glenwood Springs befriended him, finally robbing him of $100 while he was under the influence of liquor. In part the letter reads as follows:
"When I went away from home I was determined to become a real farmer and talked with a lot of ranchmen at Glenwood Springs, who informed me where it would be possible to file on land and make money.

"But I began to inquire into how the ranchmen were really getting along, and found that most of them were up and found that most of them were up to their necks in debts, fighting mort-gages that they had no chance of over-coming. I was soon convinced that the ranches in that part of the country were no place for a fellow to make a fortune, and I tried to inquire into the opportunities of getting into business at the Springs

"As long as I would buy drinks for a lot of fellows who seemed to know something about Glenwood Springs they seemed to offer every encouragement. A fellow who seemed to give me most encouragement was called Shields.

"One night I had been buying lots of drinks and I took a little too much, I suppose, and got sleepy. I fell asleep in suppose, and got sleepy. I fell asleep in a chair near a card table and didn't wake up until a bartender told me to get out. All of my associates had left me. I tried to make a holler that I had been robbed and when they found that I was clean broke the authorities told me to beat it out of town or I'd be locked up in jail.

Conditions all along the route appeared so entirely satisfactory to President Lovett that he did not consider it necessary for comment, other than to speak most favorably of the work.

As a result of President Lovett's tour over the system it can be stated with authenticity that no radical changes of any great importance may be expected at this time. There have been any number of rumors aficat of plans of the Harriman system, such as the construction of a connection between the Southern Pacific's southern route at Lordsburg, in New Mexico, to the Union Pacific, by way of Gallup or Durango, thence through Colorado, to connect with the line from Wams sutter to Steamboat Springs.
